Unconscious Bias Training Workshops

These workshops help organisations, government and corporates to understand and define unconscious bias in the workplace, and create strategies to mitigate it.

These workshops can be customised to suit any audience, and draw on specific policies and strategies as required.

Workshop Learning Objectives

By completing the two workshops, participants should have:

- An understanding of the definition of bias, conscious or unconscious.
- An understanding of how personal beliefs and professional behaviour impact your whole workplace.
- An understanding of the value and benefits of diversity.
- An understanding of the strategies to mitigate unconscious bias.
